Abstract:
Scientific writing is to explain about the processing of data concerning the purchase of goods on the company's administration Kodeco Energy Co., Ltd.
For data processing, purchasing administrative process, the author tries to make an application programming for energy companies co., Ltd where the author works that are still done manually. This becomes a problem and the authors try to change it by way of analyzing problems, designing an application programming about the process of purchasing goods computerized administration, made an application in order to simplify administrative tasks in the Vendor and the purchase of goods to reduce errors that occur, than if carried out manual.
Administrative system design begins with the purchase of goods and ending with the research field of scientific writing. Desired system design will be created using the DFD, Context Diagram, Diagram Zero, ERD, Normalization, and also use programming language Delphi.

Bibliography: 5 (1993-2001)