Abstract:
Delivery of goods is done at company PT. Winnertex if traced further can be known clearly that the sending process is still too manual done once, this can be evidenced by the process of making the road by the customer a letter to the manager who had to go through the part - a part that should not have passed if the delivery of goods already conducted a computerized system.
Therefore, it is necessary to discuss again the process of making a pass that must be passed by the customer. In order for delivery of goods can be done quickly and accurately.
